

From Our President...

Hello Quilters,

The September Picnic was lots of fun and the food was delicious, along with perfect weather. Thanks to Rosie and Max for all of their hard work and organization. We found out we have two prize winners in our mist! Both Cheryl Amos and Betty Brooks took ribbons at the fair. Betty received the Best of Show ribbon and a third place ribbon. Cheryl received two first place ribbons and a third. We are so proud of them. Cheryl suggested that we try to get the guild more involved in our local fair. It sounds like a good idea to me. Also, at the fair, Mary Green and Barb Miller set up a beautiful display about the Quilts of Valor. Thanks, gals.

Next month we welcome Vicky Howard for an in person! Trunk show. Vicky is a past president of RHQG and an avid quilter. She is also very busy with many charity projects. We are so lucky to have her visit us from St Peters, MO.

2021 is winding down fast, November is Quilts of Valor, December, our Christmas Party. I hope everyone is making lots of quilts, finishing UFO's, staying healthy, and enjoying this cooler weather. I am working on two blocks of the month and am caught up on both. I have so many things I want to do, I would need to quilt/sew 24/7, and still may not finish. I am sure most of you are in the same boat.

The Missouri State Quilters' Guild is having their Fall Retreat in Jefferson City in October and then the Spring Retreat in Branson to coincide with the Branson AQS Quilt Show. If you are interested, let me know. We will have the rooms reserved so attending the quilt show won't be a problem, as far as a room goes. These are fun retreats and you will have an opportunity to meet a lot of great people from all over the state.

*Stay healthy, keep quilting,
Madeline*

OPPORTUNITY QUILT TICKET TIME

It's that time of year again when it is time to support RHQG by selling, (or buying), your allotment of tickets. There will be an envelope of tickets for each member starting at the October meeting. If you can't get your envelope, we can make other arrangements. The drawing will be during the December meeting and there will be a picture of the quilt on RHQG website.
